

POLITICS OR NOT, THE UNITED STATES STRUGGLED!

LOOKING INTO THE FIRST YEAR OF THE PANDEMIC.

Total COVID Cases During 2020 by Country

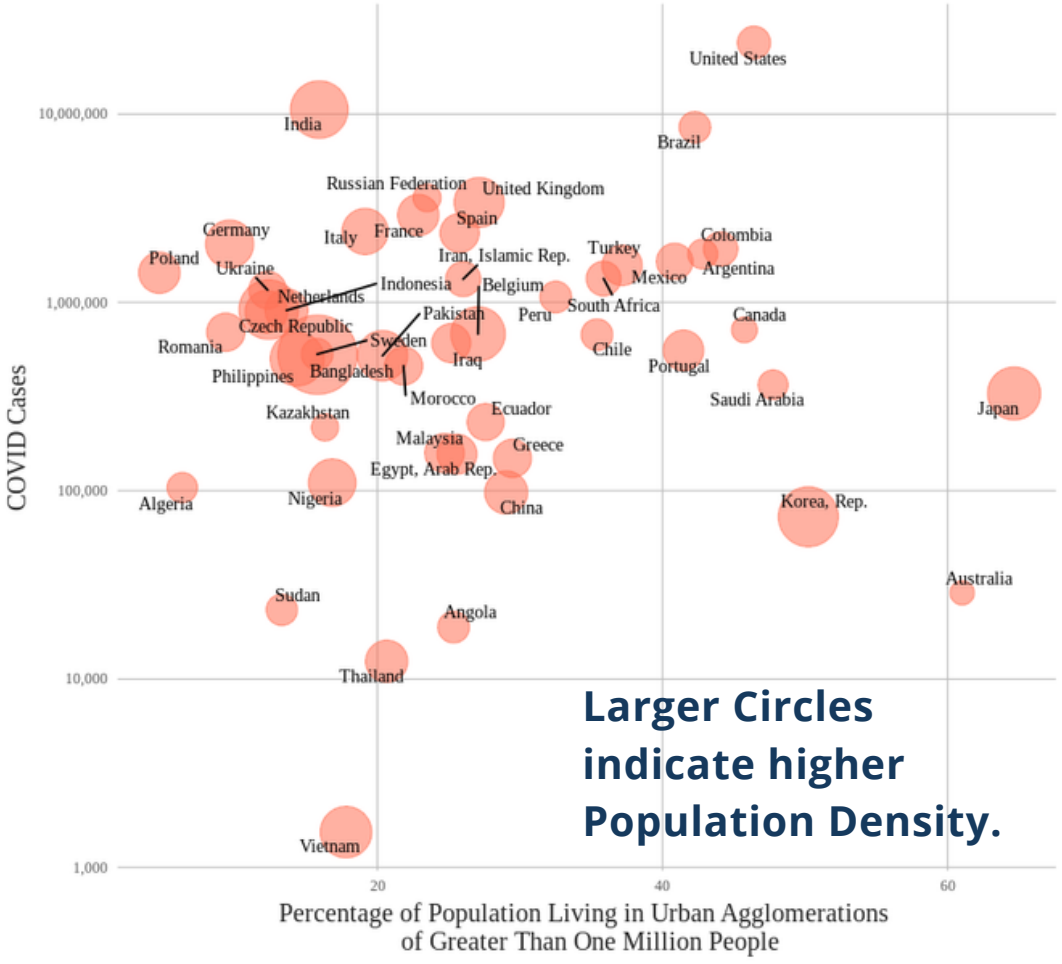

How Country Population Affected COVID Cases

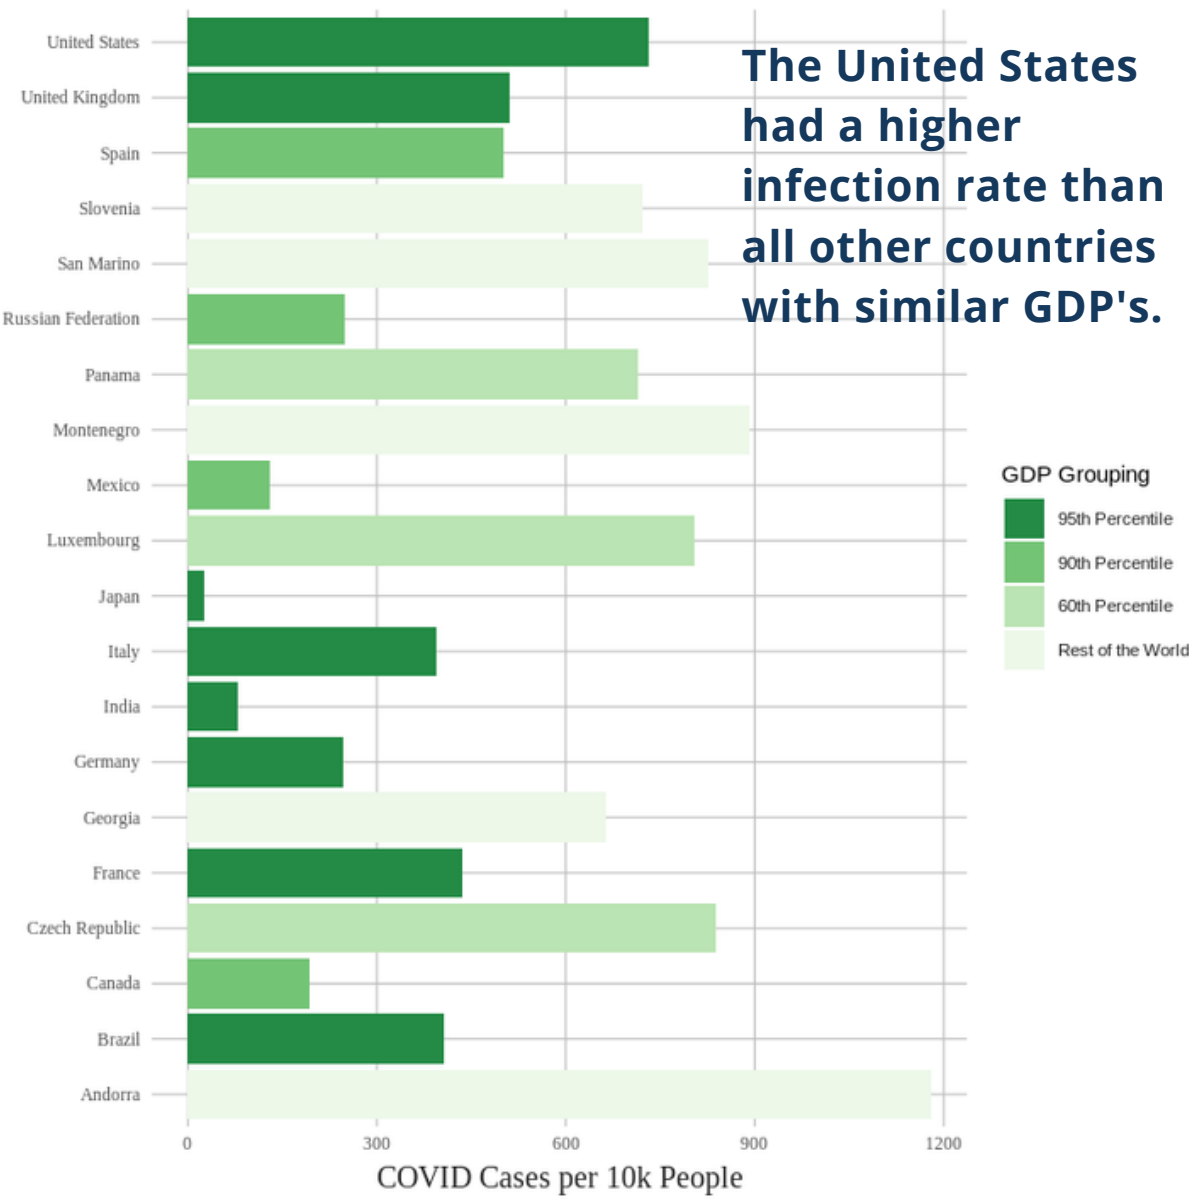

Even though the United States has a high percentage of population living in urban areas, there are countries that fared better even with higher population densities.

COVID Cases Compared to Percentage of Population Living In Urban Areas

COVID Infection Rate in Selected Countries

As we move out of the pandemic, United States leaders should take a deeper look at what went well and what could be improved so it does not lead the world during a future health crisis.

The United States certainly has the resources to set a positive example for the rest of the world.

COVID Death Rate in Selected Countries

